Alberta Reliability Standard	Stakeholder Comments and/or Alternative Proposal
1. Is the requirement contained in proposed new PER 006-AB-1 clearly articulated? If no, describe the concern and suggest alternative language.	The standard does not stipulate a required occurrence of training, so is it safe to assume that training is only required once for each of the personnel identified in the applicability section. Also taking into consideration that additional training would likely be required if there are changes to the operational functionality of the protection systems and RAS that affect the output of the generation facilities.
2. Do you have any additional comments regarding proposed new PER-006-AB-1? If yes, please specify.	No comments.
